They had a scientist on who made the case that there was a lot of evidence that the world was about to end. It seemed like there was a lot of evidence that the world was about to end, and there was an analogy of trying to get to a crowded gas station in an earthquake. I am not sure how many gas stations you have to try to reach before it is more like getting into a crowded Walmart. The show covered the following topics: -solar flares that could cause global destruction (worth noting that the amount of energy needed to bring this about has been estimated at $30-100 Trillion Dollars (I know, sounds like a lot, but that is a lot of money, all to do something that is not covered by our health care system, so we could just pray for 2d92ce491b
