Download Anorganik Kimia Soar (regional cooperative) Soar is a regional cooperative (branch of the Dutch-based agriculture cooperative Soaring) responsible for the marketing of milk, cream and yoghurt products, as well as for the production of milk and vegetable based food products like boiled pasta and quark. History Soar was founded in 1989 with the merger of the regional dairy cooperatives Geleen and Ringkreek. The first product of the new organisation was milk concentrated by the community of the people working for Soar. Because of growing demand, this first program got extended to dairy products like milk powder, yoghurt, cream, cream cheese and butter. For the marketing of milk and dairy products to the consumer, a processing centre was built next to a milk processing plant in Hengelo, where the main bulk of the dairy products are produced. The new processing centre has since been greatly expanded
