[Chinese guideline for the diagnosis and treatment of atopic dermatitis]. In 2006 the Allergic Diseases Working Party of Chinese Society of Dermatology initiated the Chinese guideline for the diagnosis and treatment of atopic dermatitis, including laboratory examinations, allergy-related information, and practical treatments. Atopic dermatitis and its diagnosis are described in detail. Laboratory tests are summarized, and the relationship between atopic dermatitis and its mediators is described. Medications and other therapies are presented with their indications and contraindications. South Carolina Senator, Lindsey Graham's draft bill to repeal the Affordable Care Act has a provision attached to it that would grant $1 million to an organization with a history of being hostile to LGBT equality to enact a campus free speech policy. Graham, who has been a consistent and unrelenting opponent of the LGBT community, is chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on the Constitution, Civil Rights, and Human Rights. As chairman, he also serves as vice-chairman of the Senate's Committee on the Judiciary Subcommittee on Crime and Terrorism. For years, the Family Research Council, a Christian organization which has been described as "anti-gay" by the Southern Poverty Law Center, "has been eager to create the right to discriminate against LGBT individuals in public accommodations, including school and employment policies." Currently, the FRC openly and actively seeks to implement anti-gay legislation all over the nation, from criminalizing LGBT residents from traveling to states that don't pass anti-LGBT legislation, to blocking gay and lesbian teachers from adopting children, to blocking transgender students from using the bathroom that corresponds with their gender identity. The bill Graham's proposed legislation from attached to, would require any university that receives federal funding, including research grants, to enact an executive order that would allow student groups to discriminate against students for their sexual orientation or gender identity. The bill would stipulate that the executive order would be enforced by local prosecutors and would have the ability to result in charges of hate crimes. The current law currently states that any student group that threatens or causes harm based on a student's religion, race, color, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, gender expression or national origin cannot be denied federal funding. The bill, which is in committee, states that "state and federal law already adequately protect the fundamental freedoms of all persons." The bill refers to the "fundamental liberties of individual
