The problem is that if you hover over that image, it keeps the background color and you can't see the image underneath. What can I do to solve this? A: This should work: Alfa Romeo has revealed its new 2018 production car, the Giulia Quadrifoglio. This is the world's first car equipped with the company's 4.7-liter V8 engine. The engine is already in the new Mini Cooper, though. The turbocharged engine churns out 450 hp and 569 ft/lbs of torque, plus acceleration from 0-60 mph in 3.5 seconds. Of course, the Giulia Quadrifoglio is based on the sedan version of the new sports car. It's 10 millimeters longer than the standard Quadrifoglio, and while it weighs 200 pounds less, it is still 2,155 pounds. There's more inside the Quadrifoglio, too, including an upgraded interior and the active aerodynamic package. Alfa Romeo has taken the bold step of introducing two new cars that are part of its popular series, the Giulia and Stelvio. As you'd expect, the first cars are the Quadrifoglio and the Stelvio Quadrifoglio. Both models use the same engine and drivetrains and both will hit the market in Spring of 2018
